OUTLINES.

President McCrea, of the Pensylvania Railroad, was a witness in the two-cent fare injunction proceedings in Philadelphia yesterday; he presented figures to show that the railroads would lose money on passenger business and that the new law is unfair and impracticable; the attorneys for Philadelphia held to the contrary, and it matters not how the case goes it will be carried to the Supreme Court. ——The revised regulations in connection with the internal revenue taxes on tobacco, which will become effective August 1st, simplify the system as to sales of leaf tobacco by farmers, and the sale of tobacco by one dealer to another dealer. ——At La Platta, southern Maryland, yesterday it took the jury only five minutes to apply the "unwritten law" in the case against Mrs. Mary E. Bowie and her son for killing Hubert Posey for wronging Miss Priscilla Bowie; the verdict of not guilty is endorsed by the people. ——Some of the 80 touring cars contesting for the Glidden cup, arrived in Chicago yesterday, while others were left behind, stuck in the muddy roads of Indiana. ——Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade reports that there is no customary complaint of mid-summer dullniess in general trade channels, business in all lines being unusually satisfactory. ——Six persons in a gasolene launch were swept over the falls yesterday near Russellville, Pa. ——Sir Thomas Lipton may come with another Shamrock and again race against the New York Club next year for the America Cup. ——Seargeant Harry Hale was arrested at Fort McPherson, Atlanta, yesterday, charged with the murder of J. E. Davis, of Johnson City, Tenn., brother of Miss Lillie Davis, who was previously murdered by Ack Hale, the sergeant's brother. ——A Federal court has enjoined strikers from interferring with strikebreakers at the plant of the American Shipbuilding Company at Lorain, O.—Postmaster General Meyer yesterday promulgated an order that the face side of postal cards may contain writing and printing and a thin advertising sheet attached according to the rules given. ——New York markets: Money on call firm 2 to 4 3-4 per cent., ruling rate 3 1-2, closing bid 2 1-2, offered at 3; spot cotton 15 points lower closing quiet 13.005; flour quiet and barely steady; wheat firm, No. 2 red 98 elevator; corn steady, No. 2, 62 elevator; oats steady, mixed 49 1-2; turpentine quiet; rosin steady, strained common to good 4.50 to 4.60.

Every time an inoffending and unsuspecting Jap is seen these days in California he will be taken for a spy.

There are two grades of larceny that appear to give a man man reputation. One is to steal a whole railroad and the other is to steal a base.

The two principal newspapers of Memphis are engaged in a hot fight. We had no idea Memphis was a small town like that.

It is announced that a New York man has invented a barrel which can be taken apart when it is empty. However, men who are able to "scuff around" and refill their barrel when it gets empty, will not care to worry with a barrel that has to be taken to pieces when it is out of commission.

Says the Charlotte Chronicl of Thursday: "It was a tie yesterday between the three summer resorts of Charlotte, Wilmington and Charleston, each recording a temperature of 94 degrees." Wonder if Charlotte and Charleston had that Wilmington breeze along with that temperature?

We have noted that the tax valuation in Columbus county has increased more than $1,000,000 over last year, and from other counties come reports of astonishing increases. If this increase is kept up throughout the State there will be plenty of money for badly needed public improvements, good roads, stronger jails, better court houses, etc. The public is also coming in for its share of prosperity.

The Fayetteville Observer copying what it terms "a splendid showing which the Star makes for the business of the port of Wilmington," says: "The commercial interests of Wilmington and Fayetteville are so intimately connected, and the business and social relations of the two so agreeable, that it gives us pleasure always to record the evidence of our big neighbor's growth and prosperity."

At the Irish Exposition in Dublin this week King Edward congratulated Ireland upon her prosperity In Germany on Wednesday the Imperial officials told Senator Latimer, of South Carolina, that he would have up hill business in securing emigrants as Germany is so prosperous that there is also a shortage of labor supply there. Republicans who claim that prosperity in the United States is due to the Republican party will be at a loss to account for prosperity in Ireland and Germany.

ON BEACH PROPERTY

Values at Wrightsville Are Increased By The County Board of Equalization.

THE SESSIONS YESTERDAY

Recess Taken at 5 P. M. Until Monday Morning—Work is Very Tedious and Many Complaints Are Heard—Assessments.

Values on Wrightsville Beach were largely eonsidered by the County Board of Equalization during its two sessions between the usual hours at the Court House yesterday. All members of the Board were present and considrable headway was made. Many property owners appear during the sittings and make complaint of the assessments made by the regular assessors in the townships, but it is only where a change is made that any record of these appearances is made. The work is very tedious and members of the Board have ere this wished that it was all over. The object now sought is to equalize values, not to raise them, but it is often necessary to bring one piece of property up to correspond with the balance in that community.

The Lumina property of the Consolidated Company was yesterday increased from $3,000 to $5,000. The Ernest Williams cottage on the beach belonging to the same company, was raised from $800 to $1,200.

Mr. J. A. Arringdale appeared again before the Board and entered a protest against a valuation of $60,000 upon the Cape Fear Mill property, holding that the amount was excessive. The Board informed Mr. Arringdale that his protest would be considered and action, if any, would be taken later.

Tract in Harnett township belonging to John Petted was increased from $40 to $200.

Lot of Miss Eunice Currie in Carolina Place, valued at $300, was reduced to $100. Two lots in Carolina Place belonging to J. E. Clark were reduced from $325 to $200.

The following values were placed on Wrightsville Beach and Sound property;

Timothy Donlan cottage, $900 to $1,000.

Mrs. Cornelia French, cottage, $1,100 to $1,200.

Mrs. A. H. Cotton, cottage, reduced from $900 to $800.

J. F. Mason, lot on Summer Rest, reduced from $800 to $600.

Mrs. F. W. Foster, Kitty cottage, $700 to $1,200.

McLaurin Cottage, $900 to $1,400, increased.

Hicks Cottage, increased from $1,250 to $1,500.

Mrs. M. M. Pearsall, increased from $975 to $1,200.

B. F. Hall, cottage, increased from $1,500 to $1,650.

Frank Herbst, 83 acres in country, $1,600 to $2,200. Later reconsidered and made $2,000.

Hanover Seaside Club, increased from $2,000 to $2,500.

Union Club, Chadbourn Cottage, reduced from $3,000 to $2,500.

Mrs. Annie J. Northrop, reduced from $3,500 to $2,500.

A tract of land belonging to a colored organization known as "Holy Fount Love and Charity," was increased from $1,500 to $2,000.

The Board at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon took a recess until 10 o'clock Monday morning. There will be no sessions of the body today, therefore.

GIVES HIMSELF UP.

Young Man Implicated in Sensational Infanticide at Raleigh.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 12.—Allie Arnald, the young white man against whom the grand jury has returned a true bill for implications with Elvira Powell, an aged negress, in the killing of the new-born babe of Rosa Johnson, Arnald being the alleged father of the child, has surrendered to the jail. He came from Harnett county, where he has been in hiding. His father is A. A. Arnald, a former police officer of the city. They will both probably be tried at this term.

Fuquay Springs Excursion.

Another excursion over the Raleigh & Southport Railroad via Fayetteville reached the city yesterday over the Atlantic & Yadkin division of the Coast Line. It comes from Fuquay Springs, near Raleigh, and the visitors will remain in the city until 6 o'clock this evening. There are only 167 persons in the party and they are spending their time very pleasantly at the beaches, something over half the number having gone down on special trolley cars upon the arrival of the train yesterday.

GOOD SCORES ON TRAPS

Regular Weekly Shoot of Wilmington Gun Club Yesterday Afternoon. Stokley Leads All at the Rocky Mount Tournament.

Eleven men faced the traps on the grounds of the Wilmington Gun Club yesterday afternoon, and in spite of a strong southwest wind, which came at times in gusts, some very good scores were made. G. W. Penny was high gun, breaking 25 straight, and making 93 out of a total of 100. The others also made good scores and the locals are showing up well for the State match to be held here in August in connection with the firemen's tournament. The principal event yesterday was a continuation of the shoot for the Murchison trophy. Dr. Dreher still leads in this contest, but has some close seconds. For the Peters' trophy there are three late entries in the persons of Messrs. Ahrens, Harriss and Merriman. They scored yesterday as follows: Ahrens, 126-200; Harriss, 126-175; Merriman, 66-100.

An interesting feature of the regular event yesterday afternoon was a team shoot by Messrs. Boylan, Littig, Dreher, Penny and Harriss. They made 108 out of 125, which is regarded as exceptionally fine marksmanship. The scores were as follows, the first two columns representing the shoot for the Murchison trophy and the last two, the regular shoot with members of the team as stated above, viz:

	Shot at	Broke	Shot at	Broke
Boylan	75	47	75	64
Bellamy	200	150	—	—
Wessel	225	158	50	32
Littig	125	87	75	63
Jarman	100	47	—	—
Holmes	150	116	—	—
Stokley	125	96	—	—
Warren	100	72	—	—
Bennett	75	36	—	—
Truelove	100	64	—	—
Dreher	—	—	100	81
Penny	—	—	100	93
Howell	—	—	50	22
Harriss	—	—	25	21
Merrimon	—	—	75	47
Jacobi Hdw Co	—	—	25	16

The Wilmington Club received with enthusiasm last night the news that Stokley yesterday led all men at the State match at Rocky Mount. He broke 170 out of 200 targets exposed to his gun, which was the highest record for the day and carried the greater number of prizes. State Senator Empie, of Wilmington, is also at Rocky Mount and showed up well yesterday.

FOR THROWING GLASS.

Four Negro Youths Apprehended by Superintendent Hocutt.

Automobilists, bicyclists, owners of rubber tired vehicles and the driving public generally owes a debt of gratitude to Superintendent Herbert Hocutt, of the county roads. While driving in yesterday afternoon with Capt. Walter G. MacRae from some bridge construction work at Purviance Creek, it was noticed that there was a quantity of broken glass scattered along the turnpike from the second toll house to Delgado. Mr. Hocutt and Capt. MacRae drove up as the glass gave evidence of having just been thrown there and their thoughtfulness in this respect was rewarded by catching four colored youngsters in the act of gathering up bottles by the wayside and deliberately throwing them at one another to break on the turnpike. Mr. Hocutt leaped from his buggy and caught one of the boys but the others ran. The one captured was brought on to the city and locked up and Mr. Hocutt at once applied to Justice Furlong for warrants for the others by the names given by the one captured. With Constable Savage the road superintendent went up in the northern part of the city and soon had the three remaining members of the party coralled. Two of the number were placed in jail and two others gave bond for their appearance for preliminary trial before Justice Furlong at 10 o'clock this morning.

The throwing of broken glass on the turnpike has been a constant source of annoyance to all drivers along that pleasure course and it is probable that if malicious mischief can be shown the boys will be dealt severely with.

Frank George and the Dog Cart.

The dog cart is still on its rounds in charge of Officer Frank George, who has come to be an expert with the net. Nine dogs and a hog constituted the record yesterday. The cart will have been out three weeks next Tuesday, and up to now Officer George and his assistant have impounded 297 dogs, six hogs, five horses and a goat. Of course, the hogs, horses and goats are not reuired to wear badges, but they were impounded for running at large in the streets. That the dog population of the city has largely incraesed is shown from the fact that thus far from the City Clerk and Treasurer's office 1,437 badges have been sold, against only about 800 for the entire season last year. The cart will continue on its rounds some days longer.

ROWLANDS' TRIAL

Case Goes Over to September and is Definitely Set For The Term.

IN WAKE SUPERIOR COURT

All Kinds of Trouble With An Energetic Photographer Who Finally Got His Snap-Shot in Spite of the Court.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, July 12.—There will be no trial of the famous poisoning case of Dr. David S. Rowland and wife, Mrs. Lillian Rowland here until the September term of court which convenes on the fourth Monday of the month, and the case is set for a day certain, the first Thursday of court. This order was made this morning over the vigorous protest of counsel for the Rowlands on the strength of a statement by Solicitor Jones that the State could not prepare adequately for the trial at this term in view of the ruling made by the court yesterday that the depositions taken at Norfolk, Memphis and other places out of the State by the defense before the case was really instituted in court by the grand jury's true bill, these depositions undertaking to set out that Strange was subject to and died of heart disease and used as a medicine the very poison, digitalis, which the State alleges was most probably used by the Rowlands in accomplishing his death. Counsel for the Rowlands insisted that the State had already had ample opportunity to prepare its case and that the grossest injustice would be done the prisoners by holding them in jail all through the Summer.

Judge Long expressed his adherence to the constitutional principle of "a speedy trial," but declared that this seemed to be a case in which the peculiar circumstances demanded the postponement which should be made in such a way that the defense should not be put to any further expense in retaking the depositions in question. The order was so made.

In the midst of the discussion of the issue the court directed that the two prisoners, Dr. Rowland and wife, be brought from the jail as the order could not be made without their presence. This was done. The prisononers had scarcely more than taken seats when a remarkable proceeding took place. W. L. Watson, of counsel for the prisoners, arose and addressed the court with the statement that he was informed that there was a paper photographer in the court room attempting to get snap shots of the court scenes and especially of the Rowlands. His clients objected seriously to any likeness of themselves being published at all, he asked the court to direct the photographer and the press correspondent employing him to take no such pictures. The correspondent at once stepped around into the bar facing the judge and stated that he was the correspondent to whom the attorney referred and that he did have a photographer to take the pictures and was not departing at all from the practice of newspapers and newspaper correspondents the country over, these illustrations being now recognized as legitimate features of metropolitan journalism.

S. G. Ryan of counsel for the Rowlands declared that while it did seem that this method of illustration was in vogue in some parts of the country, representatives of the press going about to photograph all manner of things, good and evil, but mostly evil, it was the wish of himself and those associated with him to keep the practice out of Wake county.

Judge Long addressing the correspondent, stated that in view of the objection of Rowlands counsel as court officials to the taking of the photographs he would out of deference to them direct that they be not taken. The correspondent expressed his desire to conform to the wishes of the court and retired.

After the prisoner had been returned to the jail Mr. Watson again appeared before the court and stated that he was informed that as the prisoners passed across the bridge of sighs from the court room to the jail the same photographer had taken a snap shot of the prisoners from an adjoining building and he desired that he and the correspondent be attached for contempt. Judge Long passed the matter over with the statement that he didn't care to take such action but that if the counsel desired to make a fight further about the pictures then they knew what course they might pursue.

(By Associated Press).

Raleigh, July 12.—Overruled in their efforts to obtain a trial at this term of Wake county court, Dr. and Mrs. Rowland tonight sued out a writ of habeas corpus which will be presented to Judge Charles M. Cooke, of Franklinton, tomorrow. It will really be a trial of the merits of the case, as the court here allowed depositions to be presented showing Strange had heart trouble and gave the State an opportunity to controvert these at a trial in September. As no bail is allowed for murder in the first degree the result of the habeas corpus hearing, if adverse to the Rowlands, will be a judicial verdict of guilty.

GUNBOAT WASP TO SAIL

Staunch Little Navy Craft on Recruiting Duty Gets Out This Morning. Visits Here Not So Successful—Visitors on Board.

The United States Gunboat Wasp, Commander Croghan, which has been in port the past five days on recruiting duty, will sail early this morning for Norfolk, Va., where she will be repaired before being sent out on another expedition which will probably be to the northward later in the Summer. The trip to Wilmington has not been so successful, and only three men were accepted out of the large number of applications. Uncle Sam is jealous of the physique of his men and, therefore, only the pick of the applicants is taken. The three men enlisted here are Coxswain Henry Grim, Electrician Jos. Bloomfield and Ship's Cook Henry Moore. They were sent last night via the Atlantic Coast Line to the Norfolk training station, where they will be put through the regular exercises preparatory to becoming fullfledged jackies. They are uniformed, equipped and made to feel the responsibility of a man-o-warsman.

The Wasp spent yesterday in coaling at Springer's wharf, taking into her bunkers 45 tons for the run to Norfolk. She is a very stauch little craft, and has seen actual service in the late war with Spain. Among the visitors to the ship yesterday were a large number of the excursionists from Raleigh. In addition to these there were a large number of Wilmington people who seized upon the last day of the ship's stay in port to have a look over her.

The thirty-five or forty men on the craft are scanning the news from Japan closeley and speak enthusiastically of conditions as they would probably be met in case war is declared.

Master at Arms P. J. Cheever, who is the advance agent of the Wasp, so to speak, left last night for Philadelphia, for special duty, after which he expects to get a ten days' furlough, which he will spend at his home in New York. He is a clever and most ardent enthusiast of the Navy and makes friends for the service wherever he goes.

TUG FAWN PURCHASED.

Will be Used by Hammar Lumber Company in Towing Barges.

The tug Fawn, owned by Capt. Will L. Miller, of the Acme Tea Chest Company, and Capt. Jesse D. Price, has been purchased by the Hammar Lumber Company, of this city, and will be used in towing lumber barges from the company's mill at Little River, S. C., to Wilmington, the freight being reshipped by rail and vessels from here in connection with the purchase of the Fawn the Hammar Lumber Company is having built by Mathis & Co., at Cooper's Point, N. J., two model ocean going barges, 110 feet long, 26 foot beam and 9 feet depth of hold. These barges will each have a capacity of 100,000 feet of lumber on a draft of four feet or 200,000 feet of lumber on a draft of six feet. The barges will be delivered about the middle of August and will be put into commission at once with the Fawn, which will be mastered by Capt. J. T. Jacobs, formerly of the Compton.

The Fawn is 76 1-2 feet long, 16 foot beam and has a net tonnage of 20.76. She is a staunch craft and will be well able to handle the large barges that are being built for her. The Hammar Lumber Company has quite a large mill at Little River with offices in the Southern building here and has already contributed much to the commerce of Wilmington. About the first of August it is understood that the government through the Wilmington office will begin a preliminary survey of the Little River harbor with a view of deepening the channel to better accommodate the growing commerce from that point.

Domestic Infelicities.

The ways of Wilmington couples are past finding out, especially those of the "colored persuasion." Yesteday in Justice Bornemann's court a thirty-year-old wife had her 76-year-old husband, Hardy Bryant, charged with abandonment and non-support, and in the police court during the afternoon a black man named Wilson swore out a warrant against his wife, charging her with beating him. The latter case will come up in the police court today at noon. In the case before Justice Bornemann yesterday the young wife of the aged colored man was taxed with the costs in the proceedings and in default of the amount she was sent to the jail for a sentence to the county farm.

Cutter Seminole Returning

Capt. Clarence D. Maffitt, of the launch Scuppernong, which left Thursday night to make the trip around to Wrightsville, but had to return on account of bad weather, reported yesterday that the United States revenue cutter Seminole and an unknown three-masted schooner were anchored off Frying Pan. They are expected in later, being detained on account of stress of weather. The Seminole has been to New York on special duty in connection with the yacht races.

TOURNAMENT RATES

Railroads Authorize Usual Reduction For Firemen's Big Meet Here in August.

SAME AS LAST SEASON

One Fare Plus Twenty-Five Cents for Individuals, Cent a Mile and Free Apparatus Transportation for Companies—Excursions.

A letter from President James D. McNeill, of the State Firemen's Association, last night brings the welcome intelligence that he has at last secured from the railroads the desired transportation rates for the forthcoming convention and tournament in this city the four days ensuing August 6th. These rates are the same as obtained in this and adjoining States for the tournament and convention last year in Asheville. Capt. McNeill states in his letter that he is authorized by the General Passenger Agents and Commissioner Fitzgerald, of the Associated Railways in Richmond, Va., to anounce these rates, which are one fare plus 25 cents from any point in the State, and contiguous territory in other States for individuals, while the rate for firemen travelling on one ticket in parties of ten or more will be one cent per mile each way, with the transportation of horses and apparatus free. The tickets will be on sale August 3d, good until the 12th.

These rates are considered very reasonable and will serve to attract a very large crowd to Wilmington, especially in the absence of excursions to the coast in anything like the usual numbers this season. It is learned unofficially that at least one of the roads entering Wilmington will arrange to run one more special trains for the convenience of visitors to the tournamet.

For some time it was thought that the new rate laws of the North Carolina Legislature would interfere with the firemen in securing an equitable rate, but the companies have strained a point to avoid technicalities, etc., and the same rate as was allowed for the Asheville event has been announced. The rates will be advertised widely, not only by the railroads themselves, but by the committees in charge of the tournament exploitation. Letters are daily arriving from the departments of many towns all over the State, asking for information, and it is confidently predicted that the attendance is going to surpass all former records.

BEFORE THE MAYOR YESTERDAY

Foster Williams Charged With Shooting—Colored Woman to Farm.

Foster Williams was the star defendant before the Mayor yesterday. He was charged with shooting Gus Brown in the hip one night about a week ago in the northern part of the city. He was represented by Herbert McClammy, Esq., and it was shown to the court that Williams was awakened on the night in question by his wife who informed him that Gus Brown next door was beating his wife, the defendant's step-daughter, nearly to death. Williams went over to take a hand and to rescue the woman from the irate husband when he was attacked by Gus with a knife. He pulled his pistol as the wife beater approched and handed him a leaden missive in the thigh which necessitated a call for the hospital ambulance. Brown was able to appear only yesterday but it was held that Williams acted in self defense and he was discharged.

Annie James, the negress who raised a merry row in the alley back of the Light Infantry armory Thursday afternoon and who resisted Officer Jones when he went to arrest her, was given 30 days on each count on the county farm. She was represented by Walter P. Gafford, Esq., who was himself surprised at the defense of his client.

Two draymen charged with operating their vehicles without tags on them, were discharged with the costs.

Mr. Joseph T. King in Extremis.

Friends of Mr. Joe T. King, the popular car accountant of the Atlantic Coast Line in this city, will regret to know that he is in the James Walker Memorial Hospital in this city in a critical condition following an operation for appendicitis in its most acute form. The operation was by Dr. Bulluck who pronounced it one of the most advanced cases of the disease he has ever operated for and the condition is such as to give grave concern to family and friends. Mr. King suffered an acute attack of the disease Thursday and an operation was imperative soon after his removal to the hospital.

Baseball This Afternoon.

Two interesting games of baseball wil be played in the City League at Hilton Park this afternoon. The topliners in the association, the Y. M. C. A. and the Monarchs, will meet at 3 o'clock on the diamond and as the first named has never yet this season lost a game it will be inteesting to see what the Monarchs will be able to hand the champions. The second game between the Rattlers and Giants will be played at 5 o'clock.

JUDGE PARKER SOUNDS THE NOTE.

In his address before the North Carolina Bar Association at Hendersonville, N. C., on Thursday, the Hon. Alton B. Parker, of New York, delivered the principal address of the occasion. His subject was the principles of the common law, and it was a strong and able presentation of that subject and collateral questions. Judge Parker spoke at length and took occasion to revert to the fact that a couple of years ago he decleared that we had in the common law a remedy for the trust and corporation evils upon which Congress has legislated and against which we have had more or less impotent administration attempts to solve. Judge Parker, in speaking of President Roosevelt's activities, said in part:

"There is activity now, it is true, but it is due to frequent applications of the whip and spur of the President. But there is also activity in the State governments, indeed quite as much in some of them as in the Federal government. All the difference then that there is between the two is that, after neglecting their duty for many years, the Federal government started first. But that fact was due to the man who was temporarily at the head of it, not because virtue inheres in the Federal rather than the State governments.

"Certainly no one will pretend that a scheme of government which has been found workable for more than a century should be overturned because of the manifestations of a special zeal for good works begotten after re-election by a single occupant of the office. But the campaign against the governmental plan of the Fathers is on and has been for several years. It has for its leaders the most accomplished politician of our history. Behind him and backing him stand these great corporations of the country, which are engaged in interstate commerce and insurance. Their reason is that it is easier to deal with one government than with many. It is not their purpose to submit proposed amendments of the constitution to the people, as the constitution provides—a procedure with which no one could find fault, as it offers an opportunity for discussion before the people prior to their action. Rather it is their scheme to accomplish the centralization of power by unconstitutional, and therefore dishonest methods. These include: (1) Congressional legislation assuming powers not granted, but expressly retained, either to the States or the people; (2) Executive exercise of powers not granted, and the seizure, in one form or another, of powers belonging to other departments of government; (3) The substitution of statutes for common law."

The Democratic party made no mistake when it put up a man of Parker's soundness for President. It was a great blow to the country that he was not elected, for some such man will necessarily have to go to the White House if we get back to the "governmental plan of the Fathers." All men who believe in the principles of the patriots who founded this government are bound to admit the truth and wisdom of what the eminent New York jurist said.

The Norfolk Landmark makes this comment upon a portion of the extract which we give above:

"It is beyond question that Mr. Roosevelt is a great politician. We are not prepared to say that he does not mean well in his way of dealing with the corporation problem; but his eagerness to concentrate all power in the Federal government, and in the Executive Department of that government, is incalculably perilous to American institutions."

We do not know of any better illustration to warrant Judge Parker in his position than "a decision handed down" by the Interstate Commerce Commission in a case from Texas, on which it ruled on Thursday last. This part of the Commission's "decision" is disagreeably significant:

"The rule is laid down that while a rate fixed by State statutes or a State Commission is naturally and properly entitled to respectful consideration, it has no greater sanctity, as applied to inter-State traffic, than a rate established by a railroad company, and this Commission would not hesitate, upon proper evidence that a rate so established would be unjust, either to a carrier or to a shipper, to refuse to accept it as a basis for fixing an inter-State rate."

In this decision we have a Federal government Commission or Bureau assuming the authority to nullify a State law before it is really passed upon by the courts of the country. There you are, for an illustration that points to the danger that sooner or later the laws and authority of the States will be set at naught at Washington as if they were hardly worth considering in our system of government by the people.

EDITOR STEVENS GETS MARRIED.

Mr. Charles L. Stevens, editor of the Newbern Journal, and Miss Leah D. Jones, of Newbern, were united in marriage Thursday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the residence of the bride's mother, on Metcalf and New streets. The local side of The Journal says this of the marriage:

"It was a happy consummation of a somewhat long engagement of two of New Bern's residents who surely have at once the esteem and the regard of all its people. The bride, a member of an old and notable family, with talents of a high character and with a wide acquaintance in North Carolina by reason of her prominence, for eight years as a member of the faculty of that admirable institution, the State Normal and Industrial College at Greensboro, is one of North Carolina's most admirable women. Mr. Stevens who coming here from the great West, has from the first identified himself with zeal with all that makes for the advancement of New Bern and in fact all Eastern North Carolina, and who as president of the State Press Association has been shown the esteem of his brethren of the fourth estate, is everything justly esteemed. The ceremony at happy union of these congenial people were of the simplest character and there were present only immediate relatives of the bride. Rev. Dr. Leonidas W. Crawford, of Reidsville, an intimate friend of the family of the bride, officiated. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. J. A. Jones, and Col. Fred A. Olds, of Raleigh, was best man. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. J. T. Hollister and Dr. R. D. V. Jones. The impressive words of the marriage service were said by Dr. Crawford, a ring being used. Directly after the conclusion of the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Stevens left for the Jamestown Exposition, thence going by steamer to New York, to Niagara and to De-Detroit and other places on the Great Lakes, where they will visit relatives of Mr. Stevens, the tour occupying a full month, and will be at home at New Bern about September first."

Editor Stevens is highly esteemed in newspaper circles throughout North Carolina, and The Star joins the fraternity in extending to him the sincerest wishes for the happiness of himself and bride.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—It would be strange if the United States could not distribute its own ships in its own waters without sending to the Orient for a permit.—Philadelphia Ledger.

—Robbers have just held up a Lackawanna freight train in New Jersey and carried off several wagon loads of freight. It is said that New Jersey has no law under which robbery can be fully justified.—Detroit News-Tribune.

—"Cocktail Charlie" Fairbanks jumped into thirty feet of water the other day and pulled out the hotel waitress. It is rumored that doubtless through some misunderstanding she had kept all the change.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

—Tea was first cultivated in this country more than 100 years since on the Ashley river, South Carolina, by a botanist from France named Michaux. That scholarly man removed to Virginia and some of his family were connected with the well known Venable family in this State and North Carolina. Descendants reside in both States, we think.—Danville (Va.) Bee.

—A Kaffir headman in the Umtata district of Cape Colony bought an American broom and noticing that several of the fibres had seed pods attached he sowed the seed, and now has a quantity of broom corn under cultivation and growing well. The conservator of forests for the colony reports that this native has originated what may be developed into an important industry.—London Dailq News.

—During the past two years there has been no less than twelve murders committed in Wayne county, and nearly that many in Duplin, our sister county. This is a sad commentary indeed. In Wayne county there has not been a single execution, and only two in Duplin. It seems that the time has come for some hemp stretching The criminal record of the county will not improve until some drastic measures are taken to stamp out such flagrant violation of the law, and utter disregard for human life.—Mount Olive (N. C.) Tribune.

—Almost anything can be done by executive order these days. Pensions may be granted, governments pulled down and governments set up by its use, we have seen. Now it seems that marriages may be validated by means of it. The manifestation of this, its latest power, comes from Panama. An ancient and unrepealed law of that land recognized the Catholic as the only church, and consequently only marriages celebrated in that church were recognized as binding. Some Americans, discovering this situation after they had been a long time in wedlock sanctioned by Protestant ministers, appealed to Washington—or maybe it was to Oyster Bay—and forthwith comes an executive order validating all the marriages which, for the reasons stated, were previously invalid. Mighty, indeed, is this executive order. Anything may be accomplished by it. If the race shows any growing tendency to commit suicide we may have that catastrophe averted by an executive order.—Greenville News.

TWINKLINGS.

—Litle Ella—I'm never going to Holland when I grow up. Governess—Why not? "'Cause our geography says it's a low, lying country."—Life.

—"Have you lived here all your life, friend?" "Not yit. But ef I don't git money enough to move, I reckon I'll have to!"—Atlanta Constitution.

—"Tell you a story? Well, dear, once there was a great big wolf, with eyes like—" Papa, was it a real wolf or just a faked-up wolf?"—Chicago Tribune.

—"Nay, madam, the day I married you I gave you the key to my heart." "Yes, and then you went right off and had the lock changed."—Town and Country.

—"And you will give us your blessing?" asked the eloping bride, returned to the parental roof. "Freely," replied the old man; "no trouble about the blessing, but board and lodging will be at regular rates."—Philadelphia Ledger.

—"Of course," said the optimist, "if a man gets into the habit of hunting trouble he's sure to find it." "Yes," replied the pessimist, "and if he's so lazy that he always tries to avoid it, it will find him. So what's the difference?"—Philadelphia Press.

—Redd—I see that man Finn has got an automobile. Greene—And it was quite amusing to see him the first week he had it. "How so?" "Why, every time he'd blow his horn he'd stop and look around. He used to peddle fish, you know!"—Yonkers Statesman.

—Physician—Your boy will pull through all right. He has a wonderful constitution. Mr. Tyte-Phist—I am glad to hear it, Doctor. In making out your bill, of course, you will not make me pay for what his constitution has done in pulling him through.—Chicago Tribune.

Famous Anagrams.

Of all the extravagances caused by the anagrammatic fever when many years ago it was at its height, none comes up to that of a Frenchman named Andre Pujom, who, discovering in his name the anagram Pendu a Riom (the seat of criminal justice in the province of Auvergne), felt bound to fulfill his destiny, committed a crime in Auvergne and was actually hanged in the place to which the omen pointed.

Among the papers of William Oldys, the bibliographer, was found the following anagram on himself:

In word and will I am a friend to you,
And one friend old is worth a hundred new.

The Father Pierre de St. Louis became a Carmelite monk on finding out that his lay name, Ludovicus Bartelemi, gave the anagram Carmelo se devovet, and Sylvester, in dedicating a translation of Du Bartas to his sovereign, made the following anagram:

"James Stuart—A just master."—Minneapolis Journal.

Trapping an Elephant.

"Elephants are easily trapped," said a zoo keeper, "very easily trapped and very easily tamed. The trapper chooses a spot popular with elephants and digs a hole five feet deep and twenty feet square. He surrounds this hole with a high board fence except in one place, where he hangs a swing gate. Next he finds a herd of elephants, chooses the animal he wants, maddens it and makes it chase him. The man tears along on his nag, the elephant thunders close after, and just at the gateway the man swerves to the right, but the elephant, too heavy to swerve, bangs right on through into the hole. He's mad at first, terribly mad. But they give him no food or drink, they build around the pit fires of damp wood that almost suffocate him with smoke, and they daze and stupefy him with shouts and banging of brass pans. The elephant is completely broken and subdued in three or four days. He comes forth and follows the trapper humbly and timidly, with tears in his eyes."

A New Back for an Old One—How it Is Done in Wilmington.

The back ache at times with a dull, indescriable feeling, making you weary and restless; piiecing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys and again the loins are so lame to stoop in agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause Exchange the bad back for naw and stronger one. Follow the example of this Wilmington ctitizen.

R. F. Rowan, clerk with L. W. Davis' Clothing House, residing on Castle street, between Sixth and Seventh, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I strained myself lifting a heavy box, suffered great pain across my back for a long time. I used plasters and liniments, but they did me no good. I could hardly stand up straight, my back was so weak. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in our newspapers I went to Bellamy's drug store and got a box. I felt better the next day and continued using them according to directions and my back regained its old strength. I was simply surprised at the result. I will gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills every time for backache."

FRENCH RED TAPE.

A Professor, His Lobsters and Some Casks of Sea Water.

Last year a professor in one of the Paris universities resolved to study the habits of lobsters in his laboratory. As they live in salt water, the first care of the professor was, of course, to procure a supply of this medium. The common mortal will probably consider it a most simple task—to provide a few barrels of sea water. This, however, is not so in France. Sea water contains salt, and the production of salt is a source of revenue. This made it necessary for the professor to first obtain the permission of the minister of finance before he could travel and transport the water. When his application reached the ministry, a subordinate official was directed to inquire into the standing of the petitioner. This involved considerable correspondence, which passed through numerous channels and finally reached the chief of the department, who now initiated another investigation in order to ascertain why a Parisian professor should be so anxious to lower the level of the Atlantic ocean. After several weeks the inspector made favorable report. Some days later the petitioner was notified of the favorable consideration of his request in the usual elaborate official language, accompanied by circulars giving extracts from the penal code relative to infringements of the salt monopoly.

Finally, after months of waiting, the professor was enabled to have some casks filled with salt water at a designated point on the seashore, of course under the supervision of another official, who duly issued a permit for the transportation of the liquid into the interior.

Nature and Man.

Huxley was once talking to Sir William Gull about the healing power of nature. "Stuff!" said Gull. "Nine times out of ten nature does not want to cure the man. She wants to put him in his coffin."—London Telegraph.

His Explanation.

"Henry," whispered Mrs Smithers, straightening up in bed, "what's that noise in the library?"

"Must be history repeating itself," muttered Henry drowsily. "Go to sleep!"

Not at All Easy.

"Oh, it's easy! Easy as taking candy from a baby."

"Easy, eh? Ever try to take candy from a baby?"—Pittsburg Post.

PIONEER COURT INCIDENTS.

Free and Easy Manners In Early Illinois Trials.

Most of the early Illinois courthouses were log built, but in some districts, says the author of "Lincoln, the Lawyer," the sessions were held in the barrooms of taverns, and the absence of all formality in the proceedings is best illustrated by the fact that in the circuit court of Washington county, held by Judge John Reynolds, the sheriff usually heralded his honor by singing out, "Come in, boys! Our John is a-goin' to hold court!" to which cordial invitation those having business with the law responded.

Another sheriff in Union county made laudable efforts to meet the requirements of the occasion by shouting out this singular announcement: "Oh, yes! Oh, yes! Oh, yes! The honorable judge is now opened!"

In one case a judge who desired to display his learning instructed the jury very fully, laying down the law with authority, but the jurors, after deliberating some hours, found themselves unable to agree. Finally the foreman rose and asked for additional instructions.

"Judge, this 'ere is the difficulty," he explained. "The jury want to know if that thar what you told us was r'al'y the law, or on'y jist your notion."—Youth's Companion.

What He Deserved.

Husband (handing his wife some money)—There, dear, is $10, and it has bothered me a little to get it for you. I think I deserve a little applause.

Wife—Applause? You deserve an encore, my dear!

is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr. King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Paine, Truro, Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats after all other remedies have failed; and for coughs and colds it's the only sure cure. Our Debt to Ancient Greece.

Greece and Rome were at the opposite poles of the human world, and equally opposite are their influences upon modern times. Rome was practical, hard headed, juristic, while Greece was intellectual, emotional, artistic, abounding in what may be called the forebrain versus the brain behind the ears. Rome's empire was lengthy, material, matter of fact, while Greece banked on the intellectual and spiritual, finding her greatest conquests in the realm of mind rather than in that of matter. Rome produced no great original thinker, her greatest men shining, like the moon, by borrowed light—light reflected from the sages of Athens. Rome taught men law, order, obedience, but the mother of ideas and sentiments was Greece. From the Eternal City we have inherited our jurisprudence, but it is from the City of the Violet Crown that we have derived our art, science and philosophy. In a word, to quote the substance of Dr. Johnson's saying, eliminate from our modern civilization all that it owes to Greece and the residue would be barbarism.—New York American.

Poetry With a Sting In It.

On one occasion when William Hamilton Hayne was visiting Samuel Minturn Peck at the latter's home in Tuskaloosa the two poets strolled into the woods and paused to rest beneath the shadows of the pines.

"Here are your favorite pines, Hayne," said Peck. "Let's dream a few poems beneath them."

The languid summer day had its effect on them, and they were soon snoring and dreaming away.

But suddenly both awoke and both started down the home road at top speed, shouting as they ran.

An army of yellow jackets had discovered them, and, not being partial to poetry, had forcibly and feelingly resented its intrusion on their domain.

Later, at supper, Peck asked:

"Did you make a poem, Hayne?"

"No," was the meek reply. "I made a poultice!"

"So did I," said Peck.

Not a Slip of the Tongue.

It is dangerous to pretend to knowledge one does not possess. A man of little education was once a guest at a dinner, during which a servant stumbled so that a roast tongue fell from the platter he was carrying. It was an embarrassing moment, but the quick witted host saved the day by remarking, "Never mind, gentlemen, it's only a 'lapsus lingua.'" This caused much laughter and applause, and instead of being spoiled the dinner was a great success. The boor, wishing to shine as a wit himself, shortly afterward gave a dinner, to which none of those present at the first dinner were invited. When the guests had been seated a servant entered bearing a beef roast. Just before reaching the table he stumbled and fell. The host, leaping to his feet, astonished the guests by exclaiming, "Never mind, gentlemen, it's only a 'lapsus lingua.'"—Kansas City Times.

Got the Autograph.

At Carlsbad on one occasion Brahms' physician, Dr. Grunberger, asked the composer for his autograph for a young lady admirer, but Brahms scolded him for making a nuisance of himself and refused to give it. Some weeks later, at his departure from Carlsbad, Brahms handed to the doctor an envelope inscribed, "With the cordial thanks of Johannes Brahms." Noticing a broad grin on the doctor's face, he asked: "What makes you look so cheerful? You don't know yet what the envelope contains." "Nor do I care," retorted the doctor. "The envelope is the main thing. Much obliged for the autograph!"

The Phantom Fire Ship.

The traditional "fire ship" of the Chaleur bay, New Brunswick, appearing usually before a storm, has a basis of fact, according to a scientist. It is a hemispherical light, with the flat side toward the water, glowing sometimes without much change of form, but at other times rising into slender, moving columns, in which an excited imagination might recognize the flaming rigging of a ship. The general explanation offered is that this object is a manifestation of St. Elmo's fire, an electrical phenomenon, but the reason for its appearing only on or near the Chaleur bay is not known.

Children In Pliny's Day.

It was not a modern American writer who, discussing the children, wrote of them thus: "How many are there who will give place to a man out of respect to his age and dignity? They are shrewd men already and know everything. They are in awe of nobody, but take themselves for their own example." These were the words of Pliny the younger used in one of his famous letters during the first Christian century, but they will strongly apply to much of the young America of today.

A STORY OF RAPHAEL.

The Way the Great Italian Painter Once Settled a Bill.

Raphael, the great Italian painter whose celebrated Biblical pictures are worth fabulous sums of money, was not a rich man when young. He encountered some of the vicissitudes of life, like many another genius. Once when traveling he put up at an inn and remained there unable to get away through lack of funds to settle his bill. The landlord grew suspicious that such was the case, and his requests for a settlement grew more and more pressing. Finally young Raphael in desperation resorted to the following device:

He carefully painted upon a table top in his room a number of gold coins, and, placing the table in a certain light that gave a startling effect, he packed his few belongings and summoned his host.

"There," he exclaimed, with a lordly wave of his hand toward the table, "is enough to settle my bill and more. Now kindly show the way to the door."

The innkeeper, with many smiles and bows, ushered his guest out and then hastened back to gather up his gold. His rage and consternation when he discovered the fraud knew no bounds until a wealthy English traveler, recognizing the value of the art put in the work, gladly paid him £50 for the table.

COUNTERFEIT COIN.

The Way Uncle Sam's Officials Treat Spurious Money.

Sometimes it doesn't pay to be conscientious," said the man who had a scruple, but lost it. "One day I found a half dollar in my pocket—I don't know how it got there—which didn't have 'sterling' written on it. Said I to myself philosophically: 'Uncle Sam is a scrupulous fellow. He doesn't like bad money in particular. So he has established a subtreasury where he exchanges bad money for good money.' I don't know why I thought this. I suppose I must have read it somewhere.

When I had finished speaking, I found myself looking into the weather beaten face of Washington on the steps of the subtreasury. So I entered. Behind a cage I found a clerk. "Here is a half dollar I think is bad. Please give me a good one for it," I said meekly. The clerk took the coin, carefully placed it on a die and brought a mallet down on it with a resounding blow. Then he tossed the coin back to me and continued to count pennies. I looked at my coin and swore then and there I would never be so conscientious again. The face of liberty was battered into a big "C," which plainly meant counterfeit. —New York Times.

The Best Man.

The best man at the wedding is sometimes hard to pick out. Of course the bride may consider him the bridegroom, but the maid of honor would speak for the handsome usher and the bride's mother for the rich uncle who gave the handsomest gift and the bride's little brother for the caterer, so there you are.—Home and Abroad.

Warned.

Minister's Wife (to her husband)—Will you help me to put the drawing room carpet down today, dear? The room is beautifully clean. Minister (vexatiously)—Ah, well, I suppose I will have to. TWO CENT FARE IS UNFAIR.

President of Pennsylvania Railroad Says it is Impracticable.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Philadelphia, Pa., July 12.—President James McCrea today took the witness stand in common pleas court in the case of the Pennsylvania Railroad's suit to restrain the enforcement of the two cent fare law in this State, and testified that the new law is unfair and impracticable and against the interests of not only the railroad company but against those of the traveling public. He said the new law would not stimulate passenger traffic as was contended by those who advocated the law, but would be a hardship upon those who pay a lower rate than two cents by reason of the necessity of the company's being forced to raise the commutation and other low rates now prevailing.

Much of today's proceedings were taken up with the question of apportioning the per centage of passenger traffic from th other business of the company. The company has presented figures showing that the passenger traffic amounted to about 21 per cent of the whole business done by the company. The city and county of Philadelphia, the defendant, contends that the Pennsylvania figures are not accurate, that they are more or less guess work and that instead of losing money in operating it passenger trains if the fares are reduced, the company would earn about seven per cent on its passenger business. This conclusion was reached by different methods. The Pennsylvania's calculations were made on the basis of "revenue train miles" or the number of miles traveled by trains that returned a revenue to the company, while the city made its calculation on "locomotive miles," or the number of miles traveled by all locomotives, including shifting engines. The Pennsylvania used the "locomotive mile" system in its account until the first of this year when it discarded it for the other system because it is being adopted by all railroads and is favored by the inter-State Commerce Commission.

The taking of testimony closed today and argument will be held tomorrow. In the argument the Pennsylvania Railroad will base its calculations on the "revenue train mile" system while the city will argue its case on the other basis, leaving the court to decide which is the more equitable method. The case will be fought up to the highest courts. .

POSTAL CARD REGULATION.

More Writing and Printing May be Used on Face.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, July 12.—Postmaster General Meyer today promulgated an order effective August 1, providing that the face side of a postal card may be divided by a vertical line placed approximately one third of the distance from the left end of the card; the space to the left of the line to be used for a message ,etc., the portion to the right to be used for the address only. TWO BROTHERS ARE MURDERERS

One Killed Miss Lillie Davis and the Other Slew Her Brother.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Atlanta, Ga., July 12.—Harry Hale, a sergeant in the Seventh United States Infantry, stationed at Fort McPherson, was arrested today charged with the murder of J. E. Davis, in Johnson City, Tenn., last December. It is alleged that the soldier's name is Roy Hale, a brother of Ack Hale, who is under arrest awaiting trial for the murder of Miss Lillie Davis in a graveyard near Johnson City.

Miss Nellie Noe, Miss Mary Comstock and Jacob Pargiew, of Springfield, Ky., were drowned, together with a negro boy, yesterday in Little Beech Fork river. The young couple were out in a row boat, which was swamped by a high wind.

HEYWAR AGAIN ON STAND.

Accuses Murderer Stood Cross Examination With Composure.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Boise, Idaho, July 12.—Wm. D. Haywood on trial for themurder of Frank Steunenberg this afternoon left the witness chair where he had been examination six hours in his own defense, the time being equally divided between his own counsel and Senator Brown who conducted the cross examination. Haywood's testimony closes the defense, except for one witness who will be called tomorrow and his examination will take about fifteen minutes. The State will begin the rebuttal unless motions to strikeout certain parts of the evidence should be brought forward by the defense. Counsel for the State announces willingness to abide the instructions of the court to the jury, and will not make arguments or motions to strike out. There is a prospect now that the case may be brought to a conclusion within two weeks.

Cross examination of Haywood began this morning an hour after the opening of court. Borah's cross-examination, always rapid, was more than usually quick today; but from first to last, Haywood preserved complete possession and control of himself. At times, his replies came as quickly as the questions were flung at him. Again he would hesitate and speak slowly with a marked emphasis.

Once, when Senator Borah pressed Haywood as to his sentiment toward former Governor Steunenberg, Haywood said quickly and with a smile "I felt no differene towards Steunenberg, Senator, than I do towards you or any o fthose people."

Senator Borah looked quickly, but he did not smile. He said quickly: "Yes; I have been given to understand something of that sort" and did not pursue the subject.

Much of Haywood's testimony today was a repitition in detail of what Moyer said yesterday. Haywood, however, made no effort to deny his knowledge of Orchard and his or his connection with Simpkins.

When he pressed closely as to the passage of telegrams relating to the engagement of counsel Orchard, Haywood admitted that he knew Simpkins had retained counsel but there was no record of any report from simpkins to the officers of theWestern Federation.

Like Moyer, Haywood had never heard Orchard make threats against Steunenberg, though he had heard of Orchard's assertion that Orchard had lost his interest in the Hercules mine be cause of his troubles in Couer D'Alenes.

Haywood explained the draft sent to Simpkins for $100 on December 21, 1905, on the ground that Simpkins had left the money with him for safe keeping. He had no acknowledgement from Simpkins of the receipt of the money and had not heard from him he never told Pettibone that had sent any money to Simpkins. In his opening speech, Attorney Darrow said it was doubtful whether the defense would attempt to explain the copy of the letter received by Orchard in jail at Caldwell saying that "it was sent on December 21." In his testimony, Orchard said that this letter was in reply to one from him to Pettibone for $100.

Haywood in many particulars confirmed Orchard, but where Orchard connected Haywood or the Western Federation with crime the witness was emphatic and prompt in his denials. He showed no desire to conceal the fact that Orchard had visited him at his house or that he on different occasions had had intimate conversations with Orchard. He denounced the administration of Colorado at the time of the troubles as corrupt and he extolled the value of the Western Federation. Throughout Hayfwood's testimony rang antognoism to what he calls the capitalistic class and his confirmed view that only by such methodss a those of the Western Federation can the workingman hope to control the situation.

SIX PERSONS DROWNED.

Gasolene Launch Went Over Falls With Pleasure Party.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Jamestown, N. Y., July 12.—Six persons were drowned late this evening near Russell, Pa., 11 miles south of here. Nine persons had taken a gasolene launch on the Conewango river, which was very high, owing to yesterday's rains. The boat was swept over a dam and six people drowned.

WARM WIRELETS.

The mostly hotly contested election ever held in Staunton, Va., was that over the local option fight yesterday. Out of a 1,500 registration, 1,359 votes were cast, the "wets" winning by 24. The election probably will be contested as it is claimed the ballots were confusing.

Joe Farnsworth, twenty-three years old, and for several days a fugitive from justice, was shot and perhaps fatally wounded by Policeman A. L. Hill, late yesterday afternoon in the mountainss near Bristol, Va. The officer atempting to arrest Farnsworth who is wanted on a charge of shooting Wm. Kirk, in Bristol, on July 4. The physicians say he will die.

Curt Smith, brother of the noted feudist John Smith, was shot and killed Thursday night near Jackson, Ky., by Sigel Turner, in a fight over a card game. Smith is alleged to have first fired twice at Turner. Smith was an important witness for the Commonwealth against Judge James Hargis and assocites in the mountain feud cases. Turner surrendered yesterday to officers at Jackson.

Laxity in the methods of the operation of the Washington and Falls Church Railway, resulting in a series of accidents and complaints, has led the Virginia Corporation Commission to take the company severely to task, to prescribe for its government a list of rules and regulations designed for the protection of the public and virtually to provide a temporary supervision over the conduct of the road.

Senior Reminiscences.

The chapel clock peeled the hour for us, and we ate it with epicurean enjoyment. We were walking together, the senior and I, and I listened with baited breath while he told me a fish story. Arm in arm we walked, but suddenly he stopped and drew his hands across his eyes. It was a good likeness, but obscured his vision a bit. Then he resumed:

"We sure were a bunch of hummers in our freshman year. In our snowball fight with the sophs on Washington's birthday three of us gained the fence and began to chop it up into small pieces for souvenirs. Suddenly a seven foot sophr grabbed the smallest of my assistants, but with a well aimed snowball between the eyes I laid him low, while scarlet streams rolled down his face and made intricate arabesques on his collar."

The senior paused and fetched a sigh, goodness knows where from.

"But whence the scarlet streams?" I interrogated. "Was it blood?"

"No," he palpitated; "there was a tomato in the snowball."

Then silence fell, but we sustained it between us.—Yale Record.

A Fighting "Super."

The following little gem was one of the experiences of Mr. Benson, the Shakespearean actor:

Mr. Benson made a professional visit to Dublin, and the rehearsals included the due training of a body of stage assistants to represent the hurriedly retracting supporters of Richard "Crookback," when that monarch succumbed to the onslaught of Richmond on the field of Bosworth. On the night of the first performance of the tragedy the army that was to fly stubbornly refused to leave the field or to acknowledge being vanquished, but turning upon the forces of Richmond gave them a severe drubbing. Nothing could be found to tame them to a proper submission till one of the "rank and file" said:

"Look here, Mr. Benson, if you want us to be beaten, you must put O'Connor" (the leading "bruiser" of the party) "in Richmond's army!"—Pearson's Weekly.

Silence and Science.

Before it was determined scientifically that smoke is waste, smoke was fixed as the final indication and proof of prosperity. Today a smokeless chimney means nothing less than thrift and good management. Similarly we now hear that noise is proof of urban life, progress and activity. We may answer that noise is loss as surely as smoke is waste. Decreased comfort is loss and noise decreases comfort. Disturbed minds are loss through a reduction of mental force. But these and similar consequences are indirect loss. There is direct loss also. A rattling car means worn bearings and a short lived vehicle. Otherwise railroads would not spend so much on their roadbeds, and they would run trains at higher speed.—Detroit Free Press.

Never Loses His Head.

Many years ago, when William J. Stillman of New York city was reporting a disturbance in Greece for the London Times, a report was sent out that he had been beheaded. One of his friends, hearing the report, telegraphed to the correspondent this message: "Rumor here that your head has been taken off. Is it true?" It was not until the message had been sent that it occurred to the sender that if the rumor were true Stillman would be the last man in the world to speak about it. But the message reached Stillman, and this was his reply: "My dear boy, a newspaper man never loses his head."

A Story of Whewell.

Sydney Smith said of the great Dr. Whewell, master of Trinity college, that "science was his forte and omniscience his foible." On one occasion two fellows of the college, thinking to get beyond his range, read up the subject of Chinese metaphysics and then disputed about it in the doctor's presence. He listened in silence for a time and then observed, "Ah, I see you have been reading a paper which I wrote for an encyclopedia of science."

A Mean Advantage.

"You say he accused you of being untruthful?"

"That's what happened," answered Piute Pete, with much embarrassment.

"And lives to tell the tale?"

"Well, you see he used long words in such a roundabout way that he was out o' town before I had figgered out exactly what he meant."—Washington Star.

Siamese Object to Walking.

The Siamese, above all nations in the world, hate to walk. No such mode of progression is tolerated by a Siamese if he or she can by any means ride. A Venetian gondolier will walk sometimes, even a Hollander will ride on his rough cart, but a Bangkok man—not if he can help it. His family boat for him.—Windsor Magazine.

Attentions Ceased.

"Did he jilt her?"

"No; he married her."—Illustrated Bits.

Not Her Full Weight.

Mistress—Letta, Letta, you'll break that fragile table with your full weight on it. Letta—I haven't my full weight on it; I'm standing on one foot.

The one who will be found in trial capable of great acts of love is ever the one who is doing considerable small ones.—F. W. Robertson.

Street Names in City of Mexico.

The street nomenclature in the City of Mexico is even more puzzling than that in New Orleans. Each block has a different name. Following the same street, you successively go through the streets of St. Augustine, of the Angel, of the Holy Ghost, of St. Joseph, etc. From the street of the Rats you pass to the street of the Crosses; from the street of the Gate of Heaven to that of the Love of God. Every shop also has a special name, as was the custom formerly in Europe. I regret that I did not jot down many curious ones. I only remember a "pulque" drinking shop called Los Perros (the Dogs), thus plainly telling the frequenters what they are going to. Another "pulqueria," directly opposite a church, calls itself boldly El Castillo del Diablo (the Castle of the Devil). Another is San Lunes (St. Monday). The Mexican workman always celebrates Monday as a day of rest and dissipation. He will work on Sunday, but not on Monday.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Tin Filled Teeth.

"Do you know that tooth is filled with tin?" asked the dentist, tapping one of his patient's molars with his little pick.

"Indeed I do. That was filled years ago by a country dentist, and it is the best filling I have ever had put in a tooth."

"Of course it is. It is a pity more people do not know that fact. The only trouble is that tin is so hard to manipulate it costs more than gold filling, and people will not pay the price for anything which sounds so cheap as tin. I have one customer, though, who is educated. He is a Wall street broker, and he will not let me put any other kind of filling into his teeth except tin. He pays me $26 an hour and lets me take all the time that is necessary. It is not so expensive as it seems at first, however, for once in a tin filling never has to be renewed, whereas gold often does."—New York Press.

The Boat For the Missouri.

The eccentric and variable Missouri river has "a personal friend" in George Fitch, who declares in the American Magazine that the stream is navigable enough if only the steamboats would conform to its peculiarities. "The Missouri river steamboat," says Mr. Fitch, "should be shallow, lithe, deep chested and exceedingly strong in the stern wheel. It should be hinged in the middle and should be fitted with a suction dredge, so that when it cannot climb over a sand bar it can assimilate it. The Missouri river steamboat should be able to make use of a channel, but should not have to depend upon it. A steamer that cannot on occasion climb a steep clay bank, go across a cornfield and corner a river that is trying to get away has little excuse for trying to navigate the Missouri."

The Oldest Book.

The oldest book in the world to which a positive date can be assigned is an assortment of proverbs somewhat after the style of the proverbs collected by Solomon. The work is accredited to Ptah-hotep, an Egyptian king, and Egyptologists assign to it an antiquity of at least 300 B. C. Abraham was called to leave his home in Ur of the Chaldees 1921 B. C., so that this volume was written 1,100 years before the beginning of Jewish history. The deluge is placed by most chronologists at B. C. 2348, so the book, if its dating is correct, must have been written before the flood. Methuselah was born B. C. 3317, so that this papyrus was prepared and these proverbs were collected when the oldest man on record was a lively young fellow of 300 years.

She Got Wise.

A Laramie woman went to the theater the other night with some friends, but when they were seated she was separated from her friends by a man and woman who seemed to pay no attention to each other. The woman figured out that if the two people would sit over a seat she could sit with her friends. Bracing up her nerve, she said sweetly to the man, "Beg pardon, are you here alone?" The man stared at the curtain as if he were drawing a salary for it. "I beg pardon," the woman said a little louder, "are you alone?" "Get wise," whispered the man hoarsely through the extreme corner of his mouth; "this is my wife."—Laramie Boomerang.

South American Oil Birds.

One of the animal curiosities of South America is the "oil bird," or guacharo. It breeds in rocky caves on the mainland, and one of its favorite haunts is the island of Trinidad. It lays its eggs in a nest made of mud, and the young birds are prodigiously fat. The natives melt the fat down in clay pots and produce from it a kind of butter. The caves inhabited by the birds are usually accessible only from the sea, and the hunting of them is sometimes an exciting sport.

Poor Bird!

The foolish man approached the wonderful goose that laid the golden eggs.

"Old bird," ejaculated the foolish man, "I think your time has come. Golden eggs are no longer popular. Why can't you lay gold bricks?"

"Because, master," replied the goose "I don't belong to the bricklayers' union."

And then the ax fell.—Chicago News.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—An unknown negro, killed by a train on the Southern Railway, was found lying by the track at Lake, a station near Lexington, Thursday morning.

—Whiteville News Reporter: The county treasury is said to be in the best condition in its history. A surplus of more than $14,000 stands to the county's credit.

—Asheville, July 11: The temperance people of Asheville have formally inaugurated their campaign and are now engaged in securing signatures to petitions praying the Board of Aldermen to call an election on the liquor question.

—Wilson, July 11: Yesterday Judge Cooke at Louisburg dissolved the temporary injunction issued by Judge Allen on the county commissioners of Wilson county against granting liquor licenses at Black Creek and today licenses were granted by the board to applicants.

—Fayetteville Observer: The trial of Rowden Black, son of our former townsman, Mr. D. N. Black, charged with the murder of Henry Rowland in Wake county several months ago, will be begun in Raleigh on Tuesday next. The defendant has employed eight lawyers, with Col. Argo as leading counsel.

—Dunn Guide: The Harnett county bonds that were sold by the county commissioners at Lillington last Monday brought $425 premium, and were sold to Messrs. Nuveen & Co., of Chicago. There were some eight or ten bidders for the bonds. This deal turns $425 into the county treasury and saves the county $400 per annum in interest. The amount of bonds sold were $40,000, running thirty years.

—Laurinburg, July 11: The cantaloupe season is now about to open, a few express shipments having been made last night. In about ten days shipping will be in full sway. The crop is not going to be so good as to quantity this year as is commonly the case, but present pospects are that it will be above the average in quality, the weather conditions so far being all that one could wish for them.

—Newbern Sun: District Attorney Harry Skinner and Special Government Agent Hoyt, who worked up the cases, were in the city yesterday for the purpose of making up the government's case in the Pitt county peonage affair, in which a contractor on the construction work of the Norfolk & Southern at Greenville, is charged with keeping in involuntary servitude some Italian laborers. The cases will be heard in a special term of Federal Court at Beaufort Agust 6.

—Whiteville News Reporter: On last Friday night, Cary Whitaker, a well-known negro, living near the depot, was shot from ambush. He was on his way to Mr. W. E. Hammond's home to assist in driving a well and sat down on a crosstie, near the Cape Fear siding, to wait for his companions who were behind him, when some one in ambush shot him. The ball struck him in the side and glanced around a rib for about six inches where it was found and extracted by the physicians. There is no clue as to his assailant. Whitaker had some enemies. He appeared as a witness posing as a detective, in several "blind tiger" cases and secured some convictions in the last court.

—Fayetteville Observer: The trial of Alex. Williams, of Carver's Creek township, who has been in jail the past week, charged with criminal assault on and incest with his daughter, took place yesterday afternoon before Squire Overby. The prosecuting witness, with her little four-months-old baby, her uncle and aunt, were in court, and testified to many details too revolting to relate. At the conclusion of the testimony, the Magistrate acquitted the defendant of the charge of assault, and held him on the charge of incest, requiring a bond of $150. This the prisoner gave, and was discharged from custody. The testimony revealed a horrible state of affairs among a number of negroes in the neighborhood, from which the parties to this case come.

—Fayetteville Observer: Sheriff Watson is not to be caught napping. Tuesday he received two splendid full-blooded, high-pedigreed bloodhounds from Philadelphia, for which he paid a pretty sum. One of them is six years old, and weighs 74 pounds, the other is 4 years old and weighs 55 pounds. They are beautifully marked, powerfully built dogs, and are guaranteed to be good workers. Next week Sheriff Watson will begin a series of trial runs with them, and he will soon know their qualities. The sheriff has also ordered two bloodhound pups from Cuba, said to have remarkable qualities in man-hunting, but they will not be shipped until the weather is cooler. These hounds will not only be a great protection to Cumberland, but also to the surrounding counties.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, July 12.—The cotton market was fairly active again today with sales estimated at 400,000 bales. Fluctuations were irregular, with the market making a new low record for the movement during the early session, but recovering part of the loss later and closing steady, net unchanged to 11 points lower, with late months relatively firm. The openig was barely steady, at a decline of 5 to 11 points under continuous pressure from local bears and liquidation, notwithstanding better cables than looked for. The weather map was considered good and the near months were influenced by apprehensions that the former bulls would re-tender all the cotton taken up on May and July contracts, but there was a firm tone for the new crop positions on a scale down, and after selling off to a net loss of about 10 to 20 points the list rallied on covering and New Orleans bull support. In spite of the good weather, many of the private reports from the South regarding the progress of the crop are unfavorable, and as was the case yesterday, numerous bullish messages were received from New Orleans. The market continues very nervous on the rally owing to fears that there would be newal of pressure from the bear clique. The early decline carried the active new crop months about 75 points under the high level of last week. Southern spot markets were generally unchanged.

Receipts at the ports today: —— bales, against, 2,035 last week, and 3,317 last year. For the week, 15,000 bales, against 13,428 last week, and 27,736 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 1,447 bales, against 165 last year, and at Houston, 393 bales, against 156 last year.

Spot closed quiet, 15 points lower; middling uplands, 13.05; middling Gulf, 13.30; sales, 1,300 bales. Futures opened barely steady, closed steady.

—Newbern Sun, July 12: Abraham Parker, colored, was arrested and lodged in jail yesterday upon the strength of an affidavit made by his young daughter, charging him with incest and with being the father of her four-months-old child. The girl, whose name is Alvina Parker appears to be about 16 years of age, and says her father committed his inhuman act first when she was less than 14 years old, and with force and arms, against her will. Parker was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Montague, who found a razor on his person. Parker is a married man. He denies the charge absolutely and in toto.

Why is Sugar Sweet.

If sugar did not dissolve in the mouth you could not taste the sweet. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is as strong as the strongest bitter tonic, but you do not taste the bitter because the ingredients do not dissolve in the mouth, but do dissolve readily in the acids of the stomach. Is just as good for Grown People as for Children. The First and Original Tasteless Chill Tonic. The Standard for 30 years. 50 cents.

TOBACCO SALES TO BE SIMPLIFIED

New Regulations in Connection With Internal Revenue Taxes Effective August 1.

CHANGE AS TO LEAF SALES

Name and Address of Every Purchaser of Leaf Tobacco Must Be Entered, Together with Number of Pounds Purchased.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, July 12.—The revised regulations in connection with the internal revenue taxes on tobacco, which become effective on the first of August, today received theapproval of Secretary Cortelyou and Commissioner of Internal Revenue Capers. One change of special interest to the tobacco interests, and particularly to dealers in leaf tobacco, is in section 3,360 of the revised statutes, which under former rulings required a much more elaborate system in the government books at the warehouses and at the places of business of the dealers than is rquired in the amended regulations. This section is now construed so as to require the entry of the name and address of every person to whom tobacco is sold, but it does not require, as heretofore ,that the names and addresses of farmers from whom tobacco is bought shall be entered, but can be entered simply as "purchased from farmers," stating the number of farmers. With the distinct provision, however, that the original warehouse books are to contain the name of every farmer and the number of pounds purchased from him and the date of the purchase, it is also provided that these warehouse books are to be kept open and always available to the inspection of the proper government officials. Under the plan these warehouse books, covering in many cases as many as fifty pages as a result of one day's entries, had to be transcribed into the government books. The present plan makes that unnecessary.

Another important change in this connection tffecing the leaf dealers is that where a leaf dealer makes a sale to another leaf dealer, but holds the tobacco in his warehouse subject to the order of the purchasing dealer and at his risk, the original dealer making the sale shall enter the same in the proper book at the time made and the purchasing dealer shall make a corresponding entry in his book. When the tobacco is removed from the warehouse for shipment, the purchasing dealer to whom it belongs shall enter in his books the names and addresses of the parties to whom shipment is made and the district to which the tobacco is sent.

NO STATUTE TO PUNISH JAP.

So Called Spy Probably Will Be Discharged from Custody.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, July 12.—Officials of the Judge Advocate General's office today stated that they do not recall any statute covering the act of an individual who may be detected making drawings of a fort or other government building on a military reservation. They said, however, that such reservations, being under the control of the Secretary of War, are subject to such rules and regulations as that official may promulgate. Any one who may be on a reservation without the right to be there is a trespasser, and if found doing something that the regulations forbid, is liable to ejection or to any other punishment which may be provided. The punishment, however, in time of peace, is not severe unless, of course, the fact committed is such as to amount to a crime. These observations of the officials were suggested as a result of the reported arrest of a Japanese, at Fort Rosecrans, California, while engaged in making drawings of the defense there. The arrest is said to have been made by Major Gotchell of the coast artillery, but he has not yet reported his action to the War Deparment, according to the statement of the officials here.

In the opinion of the officials here, Major Gotchell, under whose authority the arrest was made at Fort Rosecran, cannot in the absense of any statute inflict any punishment on the offending Japanese.

The Japanese Embassy officials say they have no information regarding the arrest of one of their countrymen at Fort Rosecrans for drawing plans of the fort. They deprecate the fact that a sensation should not be made out of the incident.

Officials generally take the view that the reported offense is a domestic affair and not apt to lend to any international complications.

STRIKERS ARE ENJOINED.

Shipbuilders Forbidden to Molest Strikebreakers at Work.

(By Wire to the Morning Star).

Lorain, Ohio, July 12.—The American Shipbuilding Company has appealed to the Federal Court for protection against possible damage to property and violence against employes, as a result of the second strike. This week the shipbuilders walked out again on account of not desiring to work with former strikebreakers. Injunctions were issued by the United States Court in Cleveland today. Separate injunctions against each striker were served. There were 125 orders forbidding the strikers from interfering with the company or its employes.

BARON YAMAMOTO SEES ROOSEVELT

Japanese Admiral and Suite Take Luncheon With President Yesterday.

NO WAR AT ALL PROBABLE

Difference Between Two Nations Merely Passing Shadow—Emperor of Japan Sends President Roosevelt Rare Present.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, July 12.—Admiral Baron Yamamoto, one of Japan's naval experts, today met for the first time President Roosevelt, the man who more than any other man, was responsible for the conclusion of peace between Japan and Russia, after a prolonged war during which Admiral Yamamoto was Japan's minister of marine.

In a private conversation the represenatives of the two countries, discussed the cloud which has been hovering over the long-lasting friendship between Japan and America and each expressed firmly the opinion that it was merely a passing shadow and one which could in no way reach a climax that would shake the confidence each country has had in the other since the day Commodore Perry induced the Tokogawa Shogun to open the Island Empire to communication with the outside world.

Although Admiral Yamamoto is in America purely in a personal capacity and in no way as a representative of his government, President Roosevelt made special arrangements today to entertain him and the party of naval officers who accompany him, and both before and after the luncheon at which they were entertained at the President's Summer home at Oyster Bay, took occasion to discuss in a purely informal manner the sensational stories which have for some time been printed in the newspapers of both countries.

Admiral Yamamoto in these conversations, repeated the statements which he has made on several occassions since he arrived in New York, that any feeling that there might be in Japan because of the occurrences on the Pacific coast was directed solely against the people of that section of the country, and that there was no possible chance of this feeling reaching a point where trouble between the governments would be possible.

After the visit to Oyster Bay, Admiral Yamamoto and the members of his suit expressed great delight at having had the opportunity of meeting the President of the United States in such informal manner, and said that they were convinced that today's meeting had done much to brush away any possibility of a misunderstanding between the two countries. As an incident of today's meeting Captain Kano, who is Admiral Yamamoto's aide, presented to President Roosevelt a personal gift from the Emperor of Japan. The gift consisted of a small box of the imperial Japanese red lacquer,, the making of which is a lost art even in Japan.

The following official statement regarding the visit to Oyster Bay was later given out there by Secretary Loeb:

"The President had a long interview with Admiral Baron Yamamoto and it was most satisfactory in every way. It simply confirms (what had already been made clear by Ambassador Aoki) the thoroughly good understanding between the two governments and the fundamental friendliness between the two nations."

TOURING CARS AT CHICAGO.

Some Were Left on Road Stuck in Mud.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Chicago, July 12.—The first of the Glidden touring cars to arrive in this city was that of Montgomery Hallowell, of Buffalo, and his party of three. It arrived at 12:46 with a perfect score.

The second car to arrive was that of H. K. Sheridan, of Cleveland, who was followed closely by A. M. Robins, of New York, F. S. Day and A. K. Kuntz, of Buffalo.

Charles J. Glidden, the doner of the trophy for the trip, was in a car which preceded that of Hallowell. He declared that the roads between South Bend and Chicago were in fair condition, all things considered, and said that the run of 101 miles had been made inside of five hours.

Mr. Hallowell, the owner of the first car said: "The mud in certain parts of Indiana was something fierce. Near Crocker, Ind., we came across one car that was stuck fast in the mud and was utterly helpless. We never could have got through the mud ourselves if we had not put the chains on the wheels."

The tour will be resumed from here Monday.

Unwritten Law Prevailed in Posey Murder Trial in Southern Maryland.

TOOK JURY ONLY 5 MINUTES

People Approve Acquittal of Mrs. Bowie and Her Son for Killing Young Man Who Wronged Miss Priscilla Bowie.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

La Plata, Md., July 12.—It took the jury in the Bowie murder trial today but five minutes to decide that, in southern Maryland at least, the unwritten law is the law to which the seducer must hold himself answerable. While there was no marked demonstration when the verdict became known, there was sufficient evidence that the verdict of the jury was the verdict of the people of this section of the country. Both the jury and people acquit Mrs. Mary E. Bowie and her son Henry of all blame for their acknowledged slaying, last January, of Hubert Posey, the seducer of their daughter and sister, Priscilla Bowie, who with her child, has made a pathetic picture in the court room. That there was no demonstration was doubtless due to the fact that the verdict of the jury was announced to the judge while they were at dinner during a recess, just prior to which the jury had been sent out of the room to consider their decision.

State's Attorney Wilmer's request to the jury that they bring in a verdict of manslaghter, made last evening, was more noteworthy than the frankness with which Congressman Sidney E. Mudd, of counsel for the defense, appealed to the "unwritten law" in behalf of his clients. Throughout his address, which evidently voiced the sentiments of most of his hearers, Mrs. Bowie and her son sat in stolid composure, while Priscilla Bowie wept continuously.

"Gentlemen," said Congressman Mudd, "we shall claim that these defendants were justified by what the newspapers have called the 'unwritten law.'" He then cited many cases in which the avengers of wronged daughters, sisters and wives have been acquitted, and continued: "Never since the formation of this government has there been tried before a jury of American citizens a single case of murder following wanton seduction, in which the verdict has been other than instant acquittal."

He argued the "supremacy of the law indeniably written on the quick-beating human heart over the cold type of the statute book," and said: "The family in this land of ours is the nucleus and the nursery of the Commonwealth. The protection of the sanctity of the family ties, the chastity of women, the development and maintenance of a salutary and exalted respect for the honor of the mother, the sister and the daughter, become a natural and essential feature of the law in this land. In nearly every State of this country these will be found an exemplification and recognition of this fact and an adoption of this doctrine. It is in this sense that I confidently claim the protection of what I have called and claim to be the 'unwritten law' as an adequate defense for these defendants."

State Attorney Wilmer argued against the "unwritten law," but urged to the jury to give the defendants the benefit of every possible doubt, and repeated that he did not ask for a verdict of murder, but for one of manslaughter. The jury, however, evidently took Mr. Mudd's view of the case, and when they filed into court it was to declare that the killing of Hubert Posey was justified.

NO SUMMER DULLNESS.

Trade Conditions Throughout Country Are Excellent.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, July 12.—R. G. Dunn's & Company Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

There is not costomary complaint of midsummer dullness in general trade channels, while the demand for seasonable fabrics is rapidly depleting stocks that threatened to be carried over. Brisk retail trade is accompanied by more prompt collections and many cities that were slow to respond to the better feelings now send satisfactory reports. Jobbers and wholesalers are receiving liberal orders for Fall and Winter merchandise and interior buyers are active in the primary markets. Manufactuing returns tell of large orders on hand and very heavy production during the first half of the year. Lower prices for pig iron were due to the larger output and more prompt deliveries that reduced the premiums paid for early shipments.

Woolens are not as acute, new lines of menswear being opened without attracting much attention, and development is anticipated before the end of the month. A little increase is noted in the demand for hides and further improvement is anticipated.

COLLISION BETWEEN TRAINS.

One Man Killed and Nine Persons Injured.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Hattiesburg, Miss., July 12.—In a head-on collision today between a Gulf and Ship Island work train and an incoming passenger train on the Mobile, Jackson and Kansas City Railroad, Oscar Maines, of Mobile, engineer of the passenger train, was killed and nine other persons, chiefly railway employes, were injured. Those other than railway men hurt are: County Chancery Clerk T. E. Batson, Coleman Bennett, and Georgia Carter.

ANOTHER SHAMROCK RACE.

Sir Thomas Lipton May Race Again for America's Cup.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

London, July 12.—It is thought, although Sir Thomas Lipton will not admit it, that the New York Yacht Clube will receive a challenge for the America's cup for 1908. The time for challenging does not expire until October, and it is not likely that the chalenge will be sent until the last moment. Friends of Sir Thomas say he is most anxious to make another try, and that unless something unforseen happens, another Shamrock will cross the Atlantic next year.
